

MEME ART

KING LION BATTLE ROYALE

SUMMARY

Omar Dyer is trying to organize fundraising efforts into his portfolio of investments and trying build a memorial. As we build this memorial, Omar Dyer is looking to change the NFTs market. He took a digital service mark that was gaining profit in music and invested into NFTS. Meme Art also known as NFTs (Non-Fungible Tokens) / digital currency is a block chain of crypto currency. Meme Art is categorized as digital or animated art works. KLBR is organized by Coaches 101 A NJ Non-Profit and Omar Dyer. Our celebrity notary will sign the document and make the document an official work of art under the KLBR, that is sponsored by Coaches 101 A NJ Non-Profit. Once the process of making the Meme Art a collectible item, that is official supported and sponsored by Coaches 101 A NJ Non-Profit, it becomes an investment into the brand and the company. Your investment is worth the price that is offered in this personal work of art, as a gift to our celebrity notary. After the completion of the work of art which is a digital imprint of an animated collection organized by our celebrity notary. That's what makes this an NFT (Non-Fungible Token) and digital currency. With that said, you will have the option to place your stake with the gift of the call price to our celebrity notary, into Omar Dyer's "Direct Private Placement"

INTRODUCTION

KLBR

(KING LION BATTLE ROYALE)

Building this collection of art, had a meaning to it when it comes to how Omar Dyer arranged the concept. TikTok USA and Byte Dance has built an avatar system using the looks of a person, and you can place those avatars in the comment section. Omar Dyer used modern technology to develop his NFTs out of Memes and labeled them Meme Art. The slogan on the collection of memes was created as a character in the Real Comedians From Da Hood's copyright.

OWNERSHIP

Omar Dyer owns the rights to distribute and manufacture the slogan of: KLBR (King Lion Battle Royale). The service mark has its own organization chart as a public product from the state of New Jersey, this allows Coaches 101 A NJ Nonprofit to sell the image and any materials the image will be produced on private market. This token is part of a shoe deal between Omar Dyer's collection of art using his name and likeness. Byte Dance under TikTok USA, used a system to house the creation of the image using Omar Dyer's Avatar.

MAKING OF KLBR

This is an actual token listed as an uncommon option on a public product. This limited-edition shoe is a point of sale type of item, whereas the option is the listed price on a private market Byte Dance doing business under TikTok controls the imaging system, but not the work for hire / public rights for the use of Omar Dyer's name; image, and likeness with a trademark from the state of New Jersey.

GOALS LONG TERM

BUILDING THIS TOKEN

After Omar Dyer built and made popular Bruh: “YOU DIDN’T KNOW I AM THE JOKE” companies wanted to partner up and help the NFT grow. This product was donated to Coaches 101 A NJ Nonprofit and any royalties or compensation is titled to the private foundation.

PARTNERSHIPS

Coaches 101 A NJ Nonprofit / Omar Dyer Blockchain / Mad Comedian Blockchain has been given the rights to collect or issue any monetary statements rendered on this digital product. The manufacturing of this product is for the exclusivity of the origin company. These on demand company’s follow our basic rules from the brand. While we don’t own the physical design – the public appearance is subjected to the trademark license in the state of New Jersey, and the copyrights for Real Comedians From Da Hood’s copyright. We work with three different manufacturers that detail the images that are placed on a private market. We also work with small manufacturers that are print on demand and based in China.

ORGANIZING THIS COLLECTION

Coaches 101 A NJ Nonprofit is a private foundation built on the legacy of the literary work proposed by Omar Dyer. The company was created in 2007, and has been dormant or inactive from 2007 until 2020. And because of the global pandemic known as the Covid-19, which forced people to shelter in place. This company was created to express the modern day of art. One of the best animated accomplishments rendered by Omar Dyer was the creation of Mad Comedian. Mad Comedian is a fictional character on the internet, that has been one of the best comedian or comics in the social media experience. Coaches 101 A NJ Nonprofit is organizing this collection of art in a traditional format, while displaying the image on the internet. And with Omar Dyer’s private partnership with Shopify via Printfy and Print6; Byte Dance, (TikTok) the parent company uses unilateral contracts to build the projects. This token has been established in the state of New Jersey as an option of the KLBR brand. And due to strict government laws, Omar Dyer has organized a for-profit item, that is managed by a nonprofit organization.

WHAT'S NEXT

The collection of: {KLBR (King Lion Battle Royale)} that has been tokenized with an uncommon public option known as BYDKIATJ Token will be used to collect and distribute monetary ledgers in a contractual private market. BYDKIATJ Token's (KLBR) is a stablecoin that is built using A.I. technology from TikTok's Byte Dance system, and our goal is to educate the public on financial literacy. This NFT is part of a package that has imprinted in the service mark rights to Omar Dyer with a collection of art displayed on a musical performance. In this collection of art is a portfolio, with an investment card, and a ledger card to show the number of owners that are currently holding this as a digital asset.

Goals of the project

One of the main goals of this project is to set a value for the specific NFT, which is a non-fungible token, and create a value for the asset. Then monitor and collect in the private market any monetary ledgers to set the asset. And build an educational academy that gifts financial literacy and knowledge on how to invests, open a bank account, plus understand the language in which makes of breaks an investment portfolio. KLBR presented by BYDKIATJ Token is part of a growing initiative in the financial industry, when it comes to NFTs and other similar products. Omar Dyer is a revolutionary thinker and extraordinary fundraiser, that would like to end the notion of socioeconomics by teaching how to build and marginalize an NFT and A Token.

NON-FUNGIBLE TOKEN GOAL

{KLBR (King Lion Battle Royale)} is a collection of art on paper back, and canvas which was created from Omar Dyer’s TikTok Avatar and turned into a meme. The meme was then organized into a digital token and converted from Byte Dance’s TikTok monetary system, for this digital token. One of the goals for this project is to make it a house hold name by merchandising the product, with collectible items that shares the name, image and likeness on this logo in this collection of art.

King Lion Battle Royale was created by the mind of Omar Dyer using digital technology from Byte Dance / (TikTok USA) and with the mind of Omar Dyer, the organization of this collection wants to challenge art for 100 years. And any investment and donation or monetary ledger does for this collection of art. If you want to invest in the canvas, you have to buy out the market exchange price which is $50,000 out right on a private market controlled by Byte Dance / TikTok USA. The art gets categorized as memorabilia, we are asking for a donation / gift on TikTok’s platform. If you’re looking for a return on your investment, based on TikTok’s terms of use KLBR’s valued at $500, and as an educational product in arts & entertainment the investment is covered by a convertible note on the balance sheets of the angel investor priced at $50,000.

Price: Coaches 101 A NJ Nonprofit, set the price of this token at $500. The reason for the price of this token, was based on a pledged donation / gift from Omar Dyer that was allocated from the monies converted on Byte Dance / TikTok USA’s system that were cash on hands or accrual reports from a private market and ledger. This monies allowed Omar Dyer to create an investment contract, that is included in “Mad Comedian’s blockchain and Omar Dyer’s Blockchain: and Omar Dyer’s “Call Warrant” with Coaches 101 A NJ Nonprofit.

Art Valued: This collection of art is valued at $500 – which the standard price for high profile figures. What is contained in the video, which is a compromised of digital art. The aviator was created by Byte Dance’s TikTok AI system, from the personal image, likeness of Omar Dyer.

Market Rate: Due to current state laws and federal laws both ask that each collectible item, be set to the market rate of the first donation. And that only an employee which is a qualified member are allowed to upfront the cost of the offering – or vice versa as to when Omar Dyer an angel investor can raise at least $50,000 in equity, on 100 shares.

Stock Goals: In order for this meme to trade on a public exchange, the minimum amount is to be required. And for this meme to make it to a public monitoring board: KLBR as a commodity should follow the goals of $50,00 for the blockchain. If the meme wanted to trade either in an NFT platform or cryptocurrency transport, whereas $500 where needed on 100 qualified company members’ shares. And as of right know the current bid on this meme is $500 to register the collection of art, with $500 of 100 shares, with a $50,000 valuation mark, to reach tradable convertible note.
